Flat Planet wins BRW Fast 100 Award 2015

Leading Virtual Talent company Flat Planet has been recognised as one of the fastest growing companies in Australia, in the Business Review Weekly 'BRW Fast 100 2015.' Flat Planet was ranked 36th. This is the second year in a row that Flat Planet has received a BRW award, improving from last year's position of 73rd.

Flat Planet was founded in 2010 with a vision to connect high-value talent in the Philippines with business owners. Flat Planet's dual purpose is to enable advanced economy firms to be globally competitive through access to the highest value talent available, while at the same time to provide motivated and talented staff in the Philippines the opportunity to compete for professional jobs.

"This award recognises Flat Planet's deep commitment to ensuring all our clients succeed in the Philippines. Our growth has come off the back of their success and a steady stream of referrals from our successful clients. We are very proud of our team", says David Barlow, Managing Director.

Flat Planet's key difference is its focus on professional Filipino culture. The value proposition goes significantly beyond simple arbitrage and instead focusses on performance, professionalism and productivity. "This award is recognition of the commitment our team has made to ensuring our clients need make no compromise in regards to their expectations around work", says CEO Chris Moriarty.

"Each member of the team is an ambassador for professional Filipino culture. We are always striving to impress by our professionalism, to do the best we can and be the best we can at every moment."
